

In the rocky village of Comblain au Pont...

...a new village sets up on the fields above

Complete with craftsmen...

...providing all sorts of services

"That's right.... no anchovies"

Lots of people loving to play dress up

Some with props...

Some you don't expect to see in the daylight

Never
complete without a fool...

...and a wizard

Even some of the visitors
got into character

And some are always in it

Archers were well represented...

...and brought a shrine to their patron saint

Something about a medieval outfit can make a guy pretty sexy

...but, not always

Lots of arms were on display

Maybe it will go better this time.
The guy in the red shirt was a fluke.

Finally, strolling minstrels announce the knight's tournament

Great outfits, even for the horses

And Ladies could join in Tests of mounted skill

Some practice at head lopping...

...and the lance

We think the serfs were
well
impressed by their lords
this day
